

Kuhlman, University Baritone, To Sing At Sunday Musicales

Adele Gensemer
Will Accompany
Voice Instructor

Robert Kuhlman, baritone and voice instructor at the University, will be soloist at the regular Sunday afternoon musicale which will be given at 4 p. m., Jan. 10, in Memorial hall.

Miss Adele South Gensemer, head resident of Patterson hall, will be Kuhlman's accompanist. In addition, she will appear as soloist presenting two piano numbers, "The Lark," by Balakirew and "Etude in E Minor," by Bortkiewicz.

The program will be composed of songs stressing the music of the Allied Nations of England, Russia and the United States. The first part of the program will include two selections, "Calm Repose, Contentment Smiling," from "Diedamia" and "Why do the Nations So Furiously Rage?" from "The Messiah" by Handel.

Kuhlman will sing three compositions by Rachmaninoff, "Field Beloved," "Sorrow in Spring," and "Floods of Spring," for the second part.

Two numbers by Barber, "I Hear an Army," and "Dover Beach" will compose the fourth section of the program.

The last group of songs will include "Disenchantment," by Charles; "By the Bivouac's Fitful Flame," from "Drum Taps" by Hanson; and "At the Well" and "Miranda" by Hageman.

Kuhlman came to the University last September as instructor in voice at the music department. He is a graduate of Ohio State University where he studied voice under Louis H. Diercks and Dale V. Gilliland.

While in Columbus, he made several radio appearances and appeared as soloist in numerous presentations of "The Messiah," "The Redemption," and "The Seven Last Words," and sang the role of Escamillo in a concert presentation of "Carmen." Before coming to the University, he was director of music in New Hampshire, Ohio.

In addition to his duties at the University, Kuhlman is voice instructor at Sayre college and soloist at the First Presbyterian church.

LAMP AND CROSS WILL SPONSOR CABARET DANCE

Popular Seniors
To Be Presented
At Union Formal

The most popular senior man and woman will be presented at Lamp and Cross' Cabaret Dance to be held Saturday, January 16, in the Bluegrass room of the Union building. Pictures of the couple will be included in the 1943 edition of the Kentuckian.

The first formal of the year and the first "night club" dance in two years is being sponsored by the senior men's honorary with proceeds to be used for its scholarship fund.

Tables will be arranged around the ballroom and sandwiches and soft drinks will be served during the evening. Reservations may be made by fraternities or by individuals.

Bill Cross To Play
Bill Cross and his Blue and White orchestra will play for the dancing. No floor show is being planned.

Each men's organization may select one candidate for the most popular man contest for every 20 tickets sold. Each woman's organization may select a candidate for the most popular woman contest for every ten tickets sold.

A committee composed of Dr. T. T. Jones, dean of men; Miss Jane Haselden, assistant dean of women; Mrs. Sarah B. Holmes, dean of women; and three students selected by Mrs. Holmes, will select the winners from the candidates named.

Tickets On Sale
Tickets are $1 and each admission ticket includes 25 cents worth of food. Tickets will be distributed to sorority and fraternity houses and will be on sale at the Union information desk. Donald Lail is in charge of sales, and organizations wishing to nominate candidates should see him.

Chaperones will be Dr. and Mrs. Herman L. Donovan, Dr. and Mrs. Thomas Poe Cooper, Dr. and Mrs. T. T. Jones, Mrs. Sarah B. Holmes, Miss Jane Haselden, Mr. and Mrs. Frank D. Petersen, Dr. and Mrs. Leo M. Chamberlain.

The committee in charge of the dance is Donald Lail, Jim Crowley, Jack Jackson, Hugh Morehead, Gayle Neal and Robert Kibler.

Robert Kuhlman

... will appear on the first Sunday afternoon musicale of the winter quarter.

LITERARY CLUB ASKS STUDENTS TO SUBMIT WORK

Freshmen and other men students have been invited to participate in Patterson Literary Society's quarterly competition for membership. This is the first time in the history of the organization that membership has been open to freshmen.

Requirements for membership include a standing of at least 1.5 and the submission of an original paper of at least 2,000 words, or an equivalent in creative writing.

Papers Due Feb. 6

Papers or other work should be turned in before noon, February 6. Interested students should contact Prof. J. Huntley Dupre, Prof. Konrad Bekker, or Prof. John Cutler, faculty advisors; Bob Ammons, president; or Jay Wilson, secretary.

It has been stressed that the papers must be prepared especially for the occasion and can be on any subject lending itself to serious discussion. The equivalent in creative writing would include short stories, plays, or a sufficient amount of poetry to indicate a talent for that type of expression.

Discussions Held

Candidates submitting papers will be asked to give a 15-minute discussion of the subject treated, and those offering literary works will be asked to discuss their production, before a meeting of the society.

The literary group, open only to men students, conducts bi-weekly discussions on matters of interest, and annually sponsors several speaking contests for members and for the general student body.

ARMY RESERVES TO BE DEFERRED UNTIL MARCH 20

Dr. H. L. Donovan
Receives Notice
From Washington

University students in the United States Army Reserve Corps will not be called into active service until they have completed the winter quarter in college. This was the assurance received by Dr. Herman L. Donovan, president of the University, from Washington during the Christmas vacation.

The quarter ends March 20.

The information sent to Dr. Donovan was contained in a communication from the American Council on Education which had been so advised by the War Department. The order also includes youths who joined the Enlisted Reserve by January 5.

Deferments for at least one school quarter also will be given pre-medical students, pre-dental students, veterinary students, and those majoring in chemistry, physics, bacteriology, and engineering.

In a letter to parents of University men students, Dr. Donovan urged that they cooperate in the movement now approved by government and educational leaders to keep their sons in college training as long as possible.

Former Editor Takes OWI Office

Dwight L. Bicknell, former editor of the Kentucky Kernel and telegraph editor of the Lexington Herald for the last two years, has been named information officer in charge of the Office of War Information at Louisville.

As a reorganization of the unit had been ordered recently by the Cleveland, Ohio unit, the Louisville Office of War Information, located in the Federal building, had been without a head for the last six weeks.

Bicknell, who came to the Lexington Herald two years ago from Cincinnati where for a number of years he was a member of the editorial staff of the Cincinnati Enquirer, will be in charge of releasing to newspapers and the radio in Kentucky information concerning operations of various war agencies in the state.

Former Student Writes To "Post"

Appearing as the Letter of the Week in the January 2 issue of the Saturday Evening Post is an article written by Weller R. Gary, a former University student.

Johnson Issue

Because he has brought honor to the University, the Kentucky Kernel dedicates this issue to Clyde Johnson, Wildcat tackle, chosen All-American by the Associated Press.

28 ARE NAMED FOR ADVANCED ROTC TRAINING

Students Listed
Eligible To Enroll
At Spring Term

A list of 28 students selected for the advanced ROTC course at the University has been released by officials of the military department.

The students named will be eligible to enroll in the advanced class at the beginning of the spring quarter, provided that they have completed the basic course and pass to junior standing in the University at that time.

Those eligible are:

William S. Haugaboo, William O. Laslie, Jack T. Pryor, Harold B. Wright, D. M. Baird, Marvin T. Talbott, William H. Finnie, C. T. Manie, C. T. Roszell, Oscar C. Wright, C. R. Lewis, H. W. Meador, J. A. Hodskins, V. R. Thurman, William R. Thomas, John A. Palumbo, Charles R. Hoffman, Jr., Carl Leasure, Tom W. Garnett, Jr., Howard W. Smith, John W. Hudson, Henry H. Hagan, Roy M. Kirchoff, Earl J. Farrell, Marvin B. Meyers, Joe T. Foley, Ben H. Humphrey and Shelby N. Jett.

The following students were selected for the advanced Signal Corps course, and will enroll at the beginning of the spring quarter under the same conditions as the advanced infantry classes:

Joseph O. Maupin, Fred Jackson, Robert H. Carrier, R. G. Schneider, L. I. Abraham, W. J. Gordonwood, W. A. Pribble, F. L. Milburn, G. G. Barnett and D. R. Durbin.

Winter Quarter Enrollment Drops

Total enrollment for the winter quarter had reached 2,259 at the close of the regular registration period Wednesday. Registrar Leo M. Chamberlain announced.

This figure shows a drop of only 487 from the final enrollment of 2,756 attained last quarter.

Registration figures for the second semester of last year, while not strictly comparable to these results, reached 2,800.

Further increases in the enrollment is expected since students may register until January 14, the registrar's office revealed.

No tabulations could be obtained at press time concerning the proportion of men and women students nor of the different classes and colleges.

UNIVERSITY MEN MAY APPLY FOR SPECIAL COURSE

Meteorology Work
May Be Taken By
Enlisted Reserves

University men able to meet the qualifications outlined are eligible to apply for special training in the field of meteorology at the University of Chicago, Colonel B. E. Brewer, of the Military department, has announced.

Civilians, enlisted men of the Army and those in the Enlisted Reserve Corps of the Army may apply by reporting to Colonel Brewer. Those in V-1, V-5, and V-7 are not eligible, he said.

No qualifying examinations are given; all candidates must be fully qualified by transcript of scholastic record to receive consideration. All subjects in the three programs are given at the college level and credit toward a degree is likely to be granted at most of the participating institutions.

The requirements for the courses are as follows:

Course C: Basic pre-Meteorology. 12 months. Course starts February 1, 1943. Academic requirement: 2 years' high school algebra, 1 year, plane geometry, 1 year; high school science. Must be a high school graduate between 18 and 21 years of age. Pay $50.00 per month plus allowances of $2.75 per day for rations and quarters; free tuition and clothing.

Course B: Pre-meteorology 6 months, course starts March 1, 1943. Academic requirements: 2 years' algebra, 1 year high school science, 1 year college mathematics, successful completion of one year of college. Pay same as above with free tuition and clothing.

Course A: Advanced Meteorology. 8 months' course, starts June 21, 1943. Academic requirements: Differential and integral calculus, 1 year college physics, successful completion of 2 years' college. Pay $75.00 per month plus allowances of $2.25 per day for rations and quarters, free tuition and clothing. Status during course: Aviation cadet, Ground Crew, U. S. Army Air Forces. After successful completion of course, commission as 2d Lt., Army of the U. S., Army Air Forces.

Recent UK Reprint Rates Recognition

The University's recent reprint of "The Pioneer to the Kentucky Immigrants," by John Magill, has been chosen by the American Institute of Graphic Arts as one of the December selections of the Trade Book Clinic. Selections are based on the typography and general form of the publication.

This book, edited by Dr. T. D. Clark, acting head of the history department, is the second number in the University reprint series which has received national recognition. The University committee on publications, feeling the artistic need for the preservation in attractive format of the early writings of Kentucky authors, inaugurated the series of reprints in 1939.

"Train" Akers Reports Holiday Court Activity

(Editor's note: The following game accounts were written by Marvin Akers, Wildcat guard and captain, who last year received honorable mention for All-American honors.)

By Marvin Akers
Kentucky 45—Washington U. 38
The Kentucky Kage Kats slowed down the fast breaking Washington University Bears and went on to win their second victory of the season, 45 to 38.

At the start the boys of Adolph Rupp were hotter than a burglar's pistol, and were leading 6-0 at the end of two minutes of play.

Center Mel Brewer paced the Cat attack with 13 points. Bloom blossomed out with 14 for the visitors.

Indiana 58—Kentucky 52
Indiana's Hoosier Hot Shots, after trailing for the first 20 minutes, finally climbed on the firewagon and outdistanced the Kentucky Wildcats, 58-52 before 5,000 fans at Louisville's Armory.

The Hoosiers refused at the rest period, came back driving harder and shooting with much greater marksmanship. The Hoosiers sliced the Wildcat lead to 33-31 with 14 minutes to play. After the Cats pushed their advantage to 36-31, Indiana started rolling.

Brewer and Ticco led the Cat point-getters with 10 points apiece while Hamilton with 18 and Ward Williams, brilliant soph center, with 15, paced the McCrackenmen.

Ohio State 45—Kentucky 40
Before a capacity crowd that jammed into every available space of Alumni gym, the Kentucky Wildcats faltered in the stretch and were defeated 45 to 40 by a gallant band of Buckeyes from Ohio State.

The Bucks were paced by a couple of forwards, Fred Miller and little Max Geewoo, who scored 14 and 11 points respectively, but it was Dick Shrider, Buckeye guard, that dealt the Wildcats the knockout blow when the blue chips were on the line.

Kentucky 64—Fort Knox 30
After playing a listless first half, the Kentucky Wildcats came back strong in the second canto to derail a band of Fort Knox Armoreders 64 to 30 before a scant crowd of 1,500.

Milt Ticco, Kentucky's early-topped forward, took charge of the heavy artillery and wound up the evening with eight direct hits and a free toss for a total of 17 points. Pvt. George Adams, six-foot, three inch center led the Armoreders with 14 in addition to playing a bang-up rebounding game.

Guignol Announces Players For "Arsenic And Old Lace"

Seven Students
To Take Parts
In Broadway Hit

Twenty-five murders are featured in "Arsenic and Old Lace," a comedy in which three persons vie for murdering honors, opening at Guignol, Jan. 18, under the direction of Frank Fowler. Seven of the 13 parts will be played by University students.

The role of Jonathon Brewster, which Boris Karloff made so popular in New York, will be enacted by Don Irvine, instructor of English.

Leonard Cohan, Paris, arts and sciences freshman, will play the part of Teddy Brewster, an unsuspecting accomplice to twelve of the murders.

The role of Elaine Harper, the feminine romantic lead, will be played by Wanda Austin, Miami, Fla., arts and sciences senior.

William Hackaday, Jr., Lexington, arts and sciences freshman, and Jim Pennock, Lexington, arts and sciences sophomore, have the roles of Officer Brophy and Lt. Rooney.

The shortage of men on the campus has necessitated the changing of some minor male roles to female roles. Two of these parts, Miss Klein and Miss Brophy, will be enacted by Frances Rowland and Marjorie Freeman, both arts and sciences sophomores from Lexington.

James Snyder, Lebanon Junction, arts and sciences sophomore, will play the part of Dr. Einstein, another accomplice in the murders.

The remainder of the cast, which will be announced at a later date, will consist of townspeople familiar to Guignol audiences.

Colleges To Train 150,000 Young Men In Army Service

The University can care for approximately 2,000 of the tentative figure of 150,000 young men to be trained in the nation's colleges by the government after they are inducted into the armed forces, Dr. Herman L. Donovan, president of the University, has stated.

University officials reported that figure to the government in a questionnaire returned recently to Washington. The questionnaire was sent to the country's leading colleges and universities in an attempt to determine facilities for training enlisted men in physics, engineering, bacteriology, chemistry, mathematics, and other allied sciences.

Enrollment Drop Seen

Dr. Donovan said that the University could accommodate 1,000 service men now and that since the drafting of 18 and 19-year-olds is expected to take at least 1,000 of the present students from the school, a total of 2,000 service men eventually could be trained here.

Contracts similar to the one now held by the University for the training of engineering students in the 1525th Service Unit, housed at the Phoenix Hotel, will be entered into by the government for the additional special courses.

1,000 Men Expected

Because of the tentative limit of 150,000 trainees set by the questionnaire, and the fact that between 200 and 400 schools are competing for the contracts, it is expected that hardly more than 1,000 men will be sent here, Dr. Donovan stated.

"It's still too early to know exactly what they want," Dr. Donovan said, "and I believe it will be February before we know many of the details here. It takes a lot of time to work out such things."

Sergeant York, World War Hero, To Speak Here

Sgt. Alvin C. York, Pall Mall, Tenn., hero of the first World War, will be one of the notable speakers at the annual Farm and Home convention at the University during the last week in January, Thomson R. Bryant, assistant director of the program committee, announced today. York will speak at a home-makers meeting at Memorial hall on Thursday, Jan. 28, and also at a session for farmers in the Livestock pavilion.

Bryant said that the other speakers will include Roy Hendrickson of Washington, administrator of the Agricultural Marketing Administration, who will discuss "Food Rationing," and Mrs. Grace Overton of Ann Arbor, Mich., who will speak on "Normal Living in Abnormal Times."

1942 Was Worry Year Here

By BETTY JANE PUGH
Kernel News Editor

1942 brought worry. 1942 brought war—war brought shortages—shortages in everything—everything includes men—men went to war—college students are men—college students went to war—shortages worry women—men worry women—therefore—1942 brought worry.

JANUARY—War forum discussions were inaugurated to make the campus conscious of world events. Sororities responded by trading their annual dances for war bonds. PM was launched in the grill for weeknight dancers. $400,000 was allotted UK for the "capital outlay" of a long sought field house.

Men began to enlist in the reserves. A miracle in the last seconds of the hair-raising Cat-Xavier game saved the score, 40-39.

UK decided to graduate seniors after 12 weeks' work if drafted. Rumors of a "Quarter system."

FEBRUARY—Defense program for women got under way with frontier nurse Breckinridge giving the opening speech. Men began to be drafted. Co-eds entertained the state legislators and/or vice versa with a reception and dance following the Kentucky-Georgia Tech game. That week arrived again and everyone survived it again, active, pledges, even independents. Caroline Conant reigned at the Military ball and Barbara Rehm was reelected to lead the Best Band in Dixie.

MARCH—Wildcats took SEC title by beating Florida, Auburn, Mississippi and Alabama. Profs began appearing on the campus with coats tails flying and scarves flapping as tires began to get scarce. A smart kernel reporter snapped a picture of 100 girls in John Taylor's dormitory room. Scandal? No! Petty. Incidentally Taylor's room does not have one of the low-ceiling treatments. Someone finally caught on and held convocation in the grill. Darn shame breaking so many student's "never have been to convot" record.

SGA established a war fund. Which still hasn't any money in it. Kentucky bowed to Dartmouth in finals of NCAA after defeating favored University of Illinois in the eastern round. Fort Knox soldiers began a series of visits to campus weekend parties.

APRIL—Guignol presented the art department's Rannells as "The Man Who Came to Dinner" beard and all. Kernel took top honors at the state press meet and sports ed Steinfort was named KIPA prexy of the convention. Ammons made the classic remark "The best thing about a convention is the lack of it." Senior edition plans were shrouded and embalmed. Charlie Barnett sax sensation nearly raised the SUB roof with his "Pompton Turnpike." Page 3 of the Kernel was devoted to platforms of SGA candidates. Women held banquet and presented outstanding honors in traditional tapping ceremonies. Monkey business in SGA voting, committee says, reelection scheduled. Kernel turned Roto with pix of entire new staff. PR's crack drill unit did it again.

MAY—President Donovan told inauguration crowds what he sees from his window. Tech, tech, tech.

Exam-harried students and pros pleaded "Don't lug in overdue papers at the last minute" and "Go to your desk and rest yourself." War hysteria was blamed as dorm men clad in pajamas, shorts, or towels, staged mass demonstration on campus, shouting, singing, and building bonfires in the craziest places. Largest group of persons ever received degrees at UK's longest commencement ever, 7:30 to 11 but it didn't rain.

JUNE, JULY, AUGUST—Sugar got shorter. Tires got scarcer. More men enlisted. Co-eds worried. Will any men be back. Will our dance be a flop. Will we really have to study.

SEPTEMBER—Freshmen, and we do mean men, returned, as co-eds breathed a sigh of relief. Rushing began. As usual parties started off with formal teas. Then Alpha Xi's and KD's introduced bartenders and cocktails. Chi O's staged a mock wedding. Tri Delts brought the climax with a Hell, Heaven and Earth party. According to the story "The first floor will represent hell and tomato juice and heaven will be on three."

Lull. In honor of the Dear Departed. Enlisted, Graduated or Drafted. Frosh blunders. Pep rallies. Open house. Membership drives. Classes. Ammons got after the personality boys. Notice seekers stormed the news room. Lines formed at the rear of Memorial Hall for Kylan pix. Library listed new books as "Get Thee Behind Me," "Drivin' Woman."

OCTOBER—Men getting scarcer. Women getting war. Reserves getting worried. Iron beds, trophies, fences admit students to scrap dance. Homecoming! Less noisy, fewer alumni, fewer students, same spirits. Football used in game sold for $25,000 in war bonds. Bookstore coke machine went berserk, passed out 8 cokes for a nickel, who said slot machines never pay off.

NOVEMBER—Gulp! Sadie Hawkins is again. Not very many men to chase though. Thanksgiving holiday cut to one day. Uniforms became the style, bell bottom trousers, stripes, bars, khaki, waacy. Barbara Rehm scored again in "Claudia" and Mary Louise Knapp sang as guest artist on the Sunday musicale. 20 students were named to Who's Who. Reserves worried. Dean Holmes won hog calling contest at Ag Festival. Julia Johnson reelected PR sponsor. Ted Weems scheduled for Christmas formal. Women's defense activities filled 32 inches of Kernel.

DECEMBER—Alums arranged to send monthly news resume to former students in armed forces. Co-eds say service men on campus "not wolfish." Colds threaten a wet Christmas. Gals walk willingly on dates, columnist says. What dates, co-eds say. Gamma Tau Alpha goes national. Donovan squelches rumor that UK may be operated only as a military training center. Clyde Johnson takes birth as All-American. Reserves worried. Julia Johnson named Kylan queen. Exams in quarter time. Off to the home

TICKLERS By Hayes

"The sweetest little boy knocked it off with a snowball."

Thousands Of Men To Be Trained

After months of uncertainty the Army and Navy, with the approval of the War Manpower Commission, have announced their long-awaited plan to utilize the facilities of many colleges for training of thousands of young selectees as specialists in the armed forces on a "broad, democratic basis."

Pointing out that the lowered draft age will "eliminate the principal source" of male students, Secretaries Henry L. Stimson and Frank Knox in a joint statement said they would shortly enter into a contract with "selected" schools to provide courses "prescribed by the respective services for the instruction of 'qualified young men' in academic and military subjects. The program is expected to get underway about February 1.

The institutions will be selected according to "facilities available" for training and the trainees will be chosen on the basis of certain qualifications and without regard to their financial resources. It was stated. The youths will be placed in uniform on active duty, will be housed, fed and paid by the services and will be subject to military discipline.

War Manpower Chief Paul V. McNutt simultaneously announced the deferment until the end of the 1943 academic year of students and instructors in some medical, engineering and technical fields. These include: Medical, dental and veterinary students and all pre-med, pre-dental and pre-vet students who have completed one year of study; graduate engineering students and undergrads who have finished one year of engineering; grads and undergrads who are specializing in chemistry, physics or bacteriology and are within two years of a degree.

The Army Plan

Only selectees under 22 years of age will be eligible except in cases involving an "advanced stage of technical training." They will be given their 13 weeks of basic training at an army camp and sent to a selected college. They will be organized under a cadet system for drill similar to that of West Point but subordinated to academic training. "Appropriate courses" yet to be determined will be prescribed for them and the length of the courses will be "varying." Rigid standards of proficiency will be laid down and if a trainee fails he will be returned to the ranks.

To facilitate the transition of students from the Enlisted Reserve and R.O.T.C. into the new program the following steps will be taken: Medical students will be called to active duty at the end of the next semester and will continue their medical studies; Seniors taking advance R.O.T.C. will be ordered to active duty on graduation or on the completion of the next semester; Juniors in the Enlisted Reserve who are taking engineering courses will continue in inactive status until the end of the next semester; All other Enlisted Reservists will be called to active duty at the end of the current semester.

At the end of their training selectees may be chosen for: further training in an officer candidate school, as a technical non-commissioned officer; return to troops, advanced technical training in exceptional cases, or technical work outside the army in very exceptional cases.

The Navy Plan

Eligible are high school graduates between the ages of 17 and 19 inclusive and enlisted men between 17 and 22 who are recommended by their commanding officers. They may express their choice of colleges and branch of service, and efforts will be made to accommodate them. For the first eight months all students will take the same fundamental courses in mathematics, science, English history, engineering, drawing and physical training. Each term will be of 16 weeks duration and the length of the program will vary from eight to 24 months depending on the requirements of the particular branch. Examinations will be given at the end of the first eight months and those who fail will be transferred to active duty.

As the Naval Reserve and NROTC students in classes V-1, V-5, and V-7 may continue their present studies until a date yet to be determined when they will be placed on active duty as apprentice seamen. Those who are taking medical, dental or theological training for service in the Navy will continue on active duty under instruction. All NROTC members will be called to active duty. Trainees who wish to enter the NROTC may qualify at the end of their first two semesters under the new program.

Graduates of the program will be selected as aviation cadets, engineer and deck officers, engineer specialists, medical and dental officers, supply corps officers and chaplains in the Navy, Marine Corps and Coast Guard.

Wise and Otherwise

By BOB AMMONS

While most people were worrying about their gifts this yule season, our girl friend wrote a letter to Santa Claus with a new angle on the situation. She informed the good saint that she really didn't care what she got in her stocking this year. She'd settle for a stocking.

One character from Newport surprised his friends by showing up at Rose street with two new bags. One under each eye.

Another one from Hardin county, which is now on the dry lists, reports that folks up that way had changed the name of the song to "I'm Dreaming of a Tight Christmas."

Which is almost as bad as what we hear from the American soldiers in North Africa. They say they're dreaming of a white mistress.

Judging from the local society pages, a number of students enjoyed a merry Christmas.

But probably the most succinct comment of all was passed by one of our friends who came limping into port after a particularly strenuous vacation. He said he was recovering from the holiday.

Which just proves what we have always said. Vacations are good things, but we often wonder if they're worth it.

In Which We Begin A New Year

For the first time in our memory, we are starting a new year and a new school term at the same time. It is a perfect time to make new resolutions to fit into the newness of things. But we are not.

Christmas was quiet, but not as quiet as we had expected. We had planned to stay at home all the time, and not even have any company, but our plans went to naught. There were the usual relatives' dinners that we hadn't counted on, but they were so good it more than made up for the stay-at-home idea.

The unexpected furlough of a cousin sent us racing down to an aunt's for a two-day visit, during which time we played gin rummy, not to mention the 500 kind. Then there was the rat hunt, said chase taking place in the kitchen, living-room, bedroom, and dining room, with one poor rat pursued by four women, a soldier, and a neighbor boy. Needless to say, the rat was caught, but only after the intrepid editor pounded him out of the springs in the back of the couch.

The cat, smart beast, hid under the sugar-chest (an antique, no sugar in it) until long after the furor was over.

It was a good rest while it lasted, and after this week of limbering up is over, we shall all get back into the harness again, rarin' to go.

Pfc. Joe To Brother Mike

Pfc. Joe, Inf.
U. S. Army

Dear Mike:

It was good to hear from you and I really liked that card (Army insignia and all) you enclosed in the carton of cigarettes. Thanks a lot, boy, because Christmas here isn't to be mentioned at this point. The food was O. K., though, even if it couldn't measure up to what you and the family had.

I'm not going on a complaining spree and I ain't giving out with a sob story but the holiday season just wasn't at all very festive. Was on duty Christmas eve so I slept most all of the next day. New Year's eve turned out with the same assignment so while you were out greeting little boy '43 your brother was watching over the humble abode of 35,000 sons of Uncle Sam.

Say, Mike, in mother's last letter she mentioned that you weren't planning to go back to school next quarter. What's the matter, son, expecting to be drafted? Well, I expect it too. But great guns, guy, you've still got somewhat of a chance to grab as much education as you can. Take a little advice and go on back. Maybe it's just a G. I. rumor, but I hear they'll let most of you boys at least finish out this quarter and bring you in around the last part of March.

Don't be sore at Uncle Sam because in the long run he's doing you a favor. I'm here doing a bit of worthwhile work, I believe. Even on K. P. duty (this is neither bragging nor complaining) I feel that I'm doing somebody a service. Of course, none of it is like sliding through a good snap course. It's work and plenty hard.

Also, my boy, don't worry if you can't come in and go through O. C. S. Non-coms rate high in the Army and if you've taken advantage of that education and learned anything you ought to be able to go up rapidly.

Take all the hard courses next quarter, study a whale of a lot even if you do yearn to do a lot of playing. You and I and quite a few more young people are living in critical times and we haven't time to play. Let's wait till the job is done.

Till your time comes to go to bed and wake up with the bugle, stay in school and work. You won't regret it.

No offenses, son, I'm not giving you the big brother song and dance for nothing. Please take it in the same spirit I'm sending it.

Your brother,

JOE.
A.W.

To The SGA Welfare Committee

Open letter to David Marcus and the welfare committee which investigated the cafeteria.

Dear Mr. Marcus:

How often have you eaten in the cafeteria (which you claim charges so much for its food)? Did you ever choose a molded fruit salad, bowl of vegetable soup, crackers, glass of milk, and a piece of pie—a rather satisfying lunch—and pay 20 cents. Well, that's what it comes to in our cafeteria.

It seems rather obvious that the fourth recommendation that meals should be better planned and better balanced, could only come from a group of people whose nutritional education consists of a few high sounding phrases and fewer facts. A first grader at the University training school can tell you what you should eat. He could lead you through the line and select several well balanced meals from any day's offering at the cafeteria.

Really, Mr. Marcus, surely you've been in the cafeteria. Did you fail to see the simple poster which helps you to choose not only one meal, but a day's balanced diet.

I walk a mile every day for a cafeteria lunch. Why don't you drop in?

JULIA WOOD.

(Editor's notes: From the sound of Miss Wood's letter, it appears that she eats in the Training School cafeteria rather than the one in the Union building. At the Union cafeteria the meal mentioned would cost 25 cents, we feel sure, unless the price level has changed since the last week of vacation. Also the men at the University would probably be eating more lunch than Miss Wood. This note is not to say whether or not the cafeteria serves well-balanced meals at a reasonable price, but to determine about which cafeteria Miss Wood is writing.)

AP Lists "Big Stoop" Johnson On All-American First Team

235 Pound Tackle Is First Wildcat Named In 51 Years

Huge Clyde Johnson, 235-pound Wildcat tackle, was named on the Associated Press' All-American football team, marking the first time in 51 years of Kentucky grid history that a 'Cat player has made the coveted eleven.

Johnson's selection came after he had accepted an invitation to play in the annual North-South game and been placed on the All-Southeastern Conference squad and the all-opponents roster of Vanderbilt, Alabama and West Virginia.

Big Stoop was a popular choice, because of his brilliant performance against Georgia, Alabama and Vanderbilt, and his versatility, despite his tremendous size.

Prefers Grid Sport

The burly lineman calls Ashland home, starred in both basketball and football there. Since matriculating at the University, however, he has played only the grid sport. Big John was drafted from the Z squad in mid-season of 1940, has been a fixture ever since.

Johnson's honor in being named to the squad becomes even greater, when one notices that Dick Wildung, Minnesota tackle, is his running mate.

Wildung is a repeater on the team, was called a "master of his position" by the sports scribes.

"Johnson Standout"—AP

The AP release announcing the selections said: "Tackles of All-American calibre were relatively scarce this season, but Johnson would have been a standout in any company. A giant of a man, he played sensationally for Kentucky's losing team. Moving his tremendous 235-pound bulk with surprising agility and speed, Johnson was an impressive figure in the Wildcat line, and what is more, an immovable one. He was the big reason why Georgia barely got past the Wildcats, 7-6, and he was equally effective against Alabama and the rest."

Like Georgia, Alabama finally quit running plays at his side of the line because it cost them an average of three yards every time they did it. He was tremendously effective on defense, standing straight up to his full six feet, six inches, batting would-be blockers out of the way with wide-swinging swipes of his huge paws and then lunging in to tackle the ball carrier."

Coaches Concur

As for the coaches, they hailed Johnson's choice as well-deserved. Ab Kirwan, head 'Cat mentor, said, "Johnson has been a very good player during his three years at Kentucky. He's always been steady, has been a fine competitor and has tremendous physical strength." Bernie Shively, line coach and himself a former All-American at Illinois in 1926, added, "Johnson is gifted with two attributes that make a great tackle—size and the determination to go when the game is hardest. He plays better against a good team than he does against an easy club. His long arms helped him to bring down ball-carriers that an ordinary player wouldn't have gotten close to. He has played exceptionally well during the three years he has been on the varsity, and I think he deserves All-America honors." Clyde is a senior, will graduate in June with a military commission. B. M.

'Cats Meet Xavier Tomorrow Night

Musketeers Out
To Get Victory,
Sweet Revenge

UK students poured back into town this week after a long holiday to find the Kentucky Kats, who incidentally took only a very short Yule vacation, prepping for their Saturday night visit to Cincinnati, where they will meet a quintet of Xavier Musketeers who will have enough blood in their eyes to gladden the heart of three or four blood-bank docs.

The Ohio lads remember only too well the game last year in which, when it looked like only a miracle could save their Wildcat opponents, and that miracle happened. Ernie Allen, the fastest thing on the floor, proved himself also the surest when he dropped in two free tosses in the last five seconds and Kentucky won, 40-39.

Chance For Revenge

They will have their big chance for sweet, sweet revenge this weekend when they meet Adolph Rupp's charges in the feature game of a double-header in which the University of Cincinnati and Akron will also battle it out in the opener.

Rupp hasn't seen the Xavier team play, nor has he been able to find out much about their previous performances, one of which was a one-sided win over Georgetown College and the other a service team.

"However," he said, "records of our previous games with Xavier should indicate that this one will be tough."

Opposition Loses Stars

The Musketeers lost their two star performers of last season in Robbins and Gates, who, although they did little damage in the Kentucky tilt, were enough to give any opposing coach chills aplenty.

The 'Cat mentor said that he would probably use the same lineup as in recent games, which would mean, Brewer at center, Akers and Rollins at guards, Tico, and Davis at forwards. A bad ankle might keep Davis on the bench, however, in which case Noel, rangy freshman from Midway, would fill out the card.

January 16 the 'Cats will play Tennessee in Knoxville, then travel to Atlanta for a chance at Georgia Tech on the 19th, then return to their home state for the annual clash with Notre Dame in Louisville. After near misses for two years, this season might give the Bluegrass team a win over the vaunted Irish.

January 26, Kentucky will meet Vanderbilt here, and on the 30th, it will be Alabama there, as the Red Elephants get an opportunity to avenge their defeat at the hands of the Wildcats in the finals of the loop tournament last spring. D. G.

Clyde got something besides publicity and gifts when he left for the Blue-Gray game at Montgomery, Ala. The girl is Miss Emily Young, Zeta Tau Alpha, and at the right is Roy Steinfort, athletic publicity director.

National fees of fraternities and sororities in the United States have been estimated at $3,838,800.

Another Coach Off To Armed Services

Kentucky's thinning coaching ranks were further depleted with the announcement that Ralph McRight, frosh football coach, would leave to become a physical education instructor at the pre-flight school at Chapel Hill, N. C. He will be commissioned as a lieutenant, junior grade.

McRight came here last fall after a brilliant record as mentor of the Paducah high gridders, who ruled Kentucky's prep schoolers for several years. He left Tuesday night for Chapel Hill, where he was scheduled to report Thursday.

"There goes another one of my pupils," said the professor as his glass eye rolled down the drain.

Navy Recruiters Coming To Lexington

Board To Interview Naval Aspirants January 14 And 15

Lieutenant N. C. Russell, Lieutenant L. C. Fowler, and Ensign Mary Richmond, representing the Bureau of Naval Personnel will be in Lexington January 14 and 15 to interview men interested in applying for commissions in the U. S. Navy.

Women interested in the WAVES and SPARS will be interviewed too. Application blanks will be available for those who are interested in the Navy's Women's Reserve.

No appointments are necessary. Interviews will be held from 9 a. m. to 9 p. m. each day at Suite 205, Security Trust Building. Physical examinations will be scheduled for a later date.

Lieutenant Fowler announced that students 17 years of age regularly enrolled in college are still eligible for the Navy's V-1 program. This program will close March 15. Interested students may get full particulars in Suite 205, Security Trust Building, January 14 and 15.

Lieutenant Fowler, a graduate of the University in 1937, who was here this week making arrangements for the board's visit, explained that the President's executive order ending enlistments had no effect on issuance of Naval Officer Commissions.

"Frankly, the Navy needs more men for its officer personnel," Lieutenant Fowler said. "New ships and craft are rolling down the ways and production lines daily. They must be staffed by officers, many of whom must be found in civilian ranks.

Women May Enlist

He added that as to WAVES and SPARS applicants the selection board will accept enlistments as well as officer applications.

Lieutenant Fowler said the board will act at once on applications of men interested in Navy commissions, and of women seeking enrollment in the WAVES and SPARS. A recommendation by the board means the application will be forwarded to the Bureau of Naval Personnel in Washington for action.

Men applicants need not necessarily have college degrees as a preliminary requirement. Lieutenant Fowler said: "In some cases, especially in the age range of 30 to 38, inclusive, two years of college is qualifying. In the Navy's demands for technical and skilled men—such as all types of engineers, qualified craftsmen, and construction men—a long successful experience record may even cancel all educational requirements."

Navy Needs Officers

He summarized in age groups a part of the Navy's need for officer personnel as follows:

Ages 21 to 29 inclusive—must be college graduates and preferably with at least a year of business or professional experience.

Ages 30 to 38, inclusive—college graduates preferred although two years of college is acceptable in cases of outstanding men.

Ages upward from 39—this group mainly covers chaplains, engineers, radio experts, and construction men. Education requirements and training vary. The age limit usually is near 50.

For WAVES and SPARS the minimum education requirement is two years' high school education. The age range is from 20 to 35, inclusive. Training schools for WAVES and SPARS are from five weeks to four months, depending on the types of duty for which applicants are selected.

Trainees Are Paid

In all cases, both in the Naval Reserve and the Women's Reserve, those accepted are paid during training.

Lieutenant Fowler emphasized that men and women with general educational training and non-specialized occupational records are as much sought in the Naval Reserve as are technical men and women.

As to the WAVES, both single and married women are eligible. However, married women cannot be wives of men who are in the service for which they are enrolling, nor can they be accepted if they have children 18 years of age or younger.

Women Serve At Home

Duty assignments will be at shore stations within the continental limits of the United States. The pay scale is the same as that for men in the Naval Service and has an equivalent value of $150 per month.

Women with office training and experience are being accepted for duty as yeomen, storekeepers, radio operators and clerks. In the technical fields, there is a demand for laboratory, dental, X-ray, and physiotherapy technicians to replace men in the Hospital Corps.

Accountants, payroll specialists, messengers, pharmacists, chaplains, assistants, parachute riggers, telephone and telegraph operators, photographers, librarians, mechan-

A Report To The UK Campus On Our Men In The Services

Lieut. Ben F. Van Sant, graduate of the University in the class of 1940, has been reported a prisoner of war of the Japanese government in the Philippines.

Previously Lieutenant Van Sant had been reported missing in action when Bataan fell.

While at the University, Lieutenant Van Sant majored in chemistry and was an advanced ROTC student. When called to active service, he was working toward his M. S. degree.

His mailing address is: Lieut. Ben Franklin Van Sant, U. S. Army, Prisoner of War interned by Japan, c/o Japanese Red Cross, Tokyo, Japan, Via New York, New York.

Grant Lewis, who was to have graduated from Officers' Candidate School at Ft. Benning, Ga., on December 21, broke his left leg on December 3 on the "obstacle course." Lewis was admitted to the station hospital.

Lewis planned to remain at Ft. Benning for four weeks and then to spend a furlough at home before completing his course. An advanced military student, Lewis was graduated from the University in August, 1942.

Lieut. Fred B. Hill, journalism graduate in the class of 1942, has been killed in action with the United States Army in Africa.

Lieutenant Hill, who received his commission in the infantry in June, entered active service in July and embarked from the United States as a member of the North African invasion force in October.

At the University, he was a member of Kappa Sigma fraternity, sports editor of the Kernel, and director of publicity for the athletic department. He was a member of the Lexington Herald reportorial staff at the time he entered service.

John Montgomery, Falmouth, was killed instantly in a plane accident in Alaska on December 7, according to word received here yesterday.

Montgomery, who was graduated in 1941 from the agriculture college, was a star two-miler on the University track team.

Lieut. Virgil Kinnaird Beasley, Lexington, was killed in action November 8 in Africa, according to a message from the War Department.

Before the invasion of French North Africa by American forces, Lieutenant Beasley had been in command of an infantry company in North Ireland since June.

Lieutenant Beasley was a graduate of the law college, class of 1941. He was president of the Student Bar association and was listed in the 1940-41 issue of "Who's Who Among Students in American Universities and Colleges." He was a member of Alpha Tau Omega fraternity; Scabbard and Blade, honorary military fraternity; and Phi Alpha Delta, legal fraternity.

Entering active service in August, 1941, at Fort Knox, he was later transferred to Fort Benning, Ga., for special training.

Members of the Officer Candidate Course at the Infantry School at Fort Benning, Ga., who were graduated December 21, included William Albert Seay, James Richard Howell, Jr., and Dewey Woodrow Young.

They were commissioned as lieutenants. Seay, who lives in Clinton, was an ROTC graduate and held the rank of Cadet Major before being commissioned.

Howell was also an ROTC graduate with the same rank before being commissioned. He lives in Hodgenville.

Young, who lives in Verne, completed his ROTC work at the University and was a Cadet First Lieutenant before being commissioned.

Captain William N. Boaz, Jr., Paducah, has been promoted to the rank of Major at Headquarters Third Air Service Area Command, Atlanta, Ga., where he is an assistant plans and special projects officer.

Major Boaz has been on active duty since April, 1940, when he was commissioned a lieutenant. He attended the University from 1935 to 1938 as a student in engineering.

Lieut. John S. "Buddy" Cole, Jr., Nicholasville, has been "missing in action" since American troops forced the boon to Oran harbor in Algeria and captured the North African port, the War Department has reported. The battle occurred November 8.

Lieutenant Cole received his degree from the University in 1941 and then entered active service in the Army. He was a member of Pi Kappa Alpha fraternity and the Pryor Pre-Med Society. He intended to go to Ann Arbor, Mich., to study medicine upon graduation from the University.

Intramural Ball League Entries Due January 12

By Dick Gillespie

Entries in the intramural basketball leagues must be filed at the intramural office in the gym annex before 5:30 p. m., Jan. 12, according to an announcement made this week by A. T. Gullette, intramural sports supervisor, who outlined the program planned by that department for the forthcoming weeks.

Each organization may enter an

A, B, and C team in those respective leagues and changes may be made in the line-ups of the teams up to the time of the second game, after which time they will remain fixed.

Entries in the handball meet must also be filed on or before Jan. 12, Gullette stated, while the free-throw tournament, the first event of the quarter, will be held Jan. 12-14.

Anyone interested in officiating intramural basketball games is asked to report at the intramural office as soon as possible.

Our best testimonial is the number of satisfied students who patronize this laundry week in and week out. They have discovered by comparison that our service offers the most satisfactory laundry value — good workmanship, promptness and dependable service . . . all at thrifty prices. The minimum weight for flat roll is three pounds.

KERNEL SPORTS

The Sporting Way

By BAXTER MELTON

"Just a rumor—that's all," was the campus comment when the grapevine reported that Clyde Johnson was to be named on the Associated Press' 1942 All-American football team. Nothing more than a pet idea of someone.

Days passed, more and more students heard about it. The "It Can't Happen Here" individuals kept laughing off the idea. "Kentucky, which won only three of ten games and went win-less in conference competition, can't place a player on the All-American roster," they said. We've had lots of good gridders—Ralph Kercheval, Stanley Nevess, Bert Johnson, Bob Davis, Shipwreck Kelly, to mention a few—and they all failed to receive such recognition.

The Rumor Is Confirmed
During the week of December 6, however, downtown sports writers confirmed the rumor—Johnson was included on the AP squad. A story, complete with pictures, had been in for some time, but the release date had not yet been reached.

That, students, is the reason why mention of Johnson's honor wasn't made in a pre-Christmas Kernel. We knew fully 10 days before that he was to be named on the eleven, but were prevented by law from publishing any information. The AP's New York office sets the release dates, and they must be kept. A Louisville paper was placed in an embarrassing position when its sports editor merely said "Watch Friday's paper."

Big Stoop's Honors Cause Confusion

To add to the confusion, Big Stoop's name was included on the All-Southeastern Conference team that was announced on Thursday, before the All-American roster was run in Friday afternoon papers. "Yeah," the wise guys nodded, "that's what all the hub-bub was about. Didn't think he'd made All-American."

Then came the story which revealed that the 235-pound tackle had been awarded the highest football honor possible. After 51 years of the grid sport, the University had at last placed a representative on the coveted eleven.

You know the rest — banquets, speeches, reams of publicity, special events here and there, all that goes with such a distinction. Ashland welcomed its hero home with a basketball game in his honor, and between halves, presented him with a plaque. Locally, a "Clyde Johnson banquet" was held, where a gold watch and chain and $300 in war bonds was presented to the huge lineman.

Johnson Shares The Limelight

How did he take it? Well, if one had not heard of his honor, not one bit of information would have been obtained from him. As usual, he was quiet, except to say that most of the glory should go to his teammates and coaches. "Don't forget Sengle, left end, Arch Colvin and Hut Jones, the left guards, and Bob Herbert and Charlie Bill Walker, line-backers—they made the job a lot easier."

Not only did he mention UK mentors, but he also remembered his high school coaches, Fayne Grone, Ernie Chattin, and Paul Jenkins. Grone, according to Big Stoop, was largely responsible for his coming to the University.

COLONEL Of The Week

Clyde Johnson

This week's "Colonel of the Week" goes to Clyde Johnson, 235 pound Wildcat tackle, recently awarded a berth on the Associated Press All-Southeastern conference and All-America football teams. Clyde is the first man in U. K.'s history to be honored on the All-America eleven.

Clyde is majoring in physical education and plans a coaching career after the war. He will graduate from Advanced R. O. T. C. at the end of the June quarter. He is a member of the K-Club and was selected to participate in the annual Blue-Gray football tussle.

To show our appreciation, we invite you to come in and enjoy any two of our delicious meals.
